

Categories

- Cheap Eats
- Chocolate
- Coffee
- Food
- Miscellany
- Neighbourhoods and Community
- Rant and Opine
- Restaurants
- Seen, Heard, and Read
- Shopping
- Stuff and Nonsense
- Things to do in Vancouver
- Things to do in Washington and Oregon
- Things to do on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands
- Uncategorized
- Vancouver 2010

Search:

Meta
Login

Ahhh...Amedei

Thursday September 20th 2007, 10:07 am

Filed under: Chocolate

Timing, they seem to say, is everything. And so it was yesterday, when I arrived at the wonderful Monde Chocolat at the exact moment they were bringing the Amedei chocolate into the store.

Amedei, God love it, is considered among the finest chocolate in the world, and the Chuao from Venezuela the best of the best. It is a deeply satisfying bar—full of red fruits and aromatic roundness. No other chocolate I have eaten, including Amadei's Toscano Black, compares.

Monde Chocolate has a full range of Amedei products including the Toscano Black, Porcellana, Tavoletti '9', and Chocolat Au Lait.

Monde Chocolat
2391 Burrard Street
Vancouver, BC
604-733-2462

I will write more about this marvelous chocolate and the wonderful Monde Chocolat, which sources amazing chocolate from all over, soon.

And now, back to my carpal tunnel holiday. See you in October!